

Euripides'
HELEN

outdoors in the MSU Amphitheater
April 20, 21, 22; 25, 27
2pm

an ancient Greek story about reclaiming your identity, and rescuing yourself and your true love—with a little help from your friends

In a new translation by Diane Arnon Svarlien. Directed by Jackie Knollhuff and Jeri Fogel. With original music and dance.
FREE. Accessible seating available.
Performance cancelled in case of rain or bad weather. Info: www.msuhelen.org

Sponsored by the MSU Department of Classics and General Humanities, and the College of Humanities and Social Sciences, with generous help from the MSU Department of Theatre & Dance, Kasser Theater, the NY Classical Club, and the Classical Association of the Atlantic States. Translation courtesy of Hackett Publishing Co.